OBJECTIVE

I got into web development because I liked the idea of taking something from a blank page to a working product — that's still what I enjoy most. Over the past couple of years I've taught myself HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React and Tailwind CSS, built a few projects on my own, and learned how to actually ship them using Git, GitHub and Netlify. Right now I'm also working on the front-end of an ERP software project using ASP.NET, which has given me a taste of what building for a real enterprise system actually looks like. I just finished my CSE degree and I'm looking for an internship where I can build on that, work closely with a team, and learn how things are really done at an enterprise level.
